At the last meeting of this society several matters of interest were presented. A communication was received from corresponding member E. W. Merley, of Hudson, Ohio, giving his method of measurement, under very high magnification, of the strise on the entire series of diatous on the Moller's test plate. A pamphlet was also re-ceived from Dr. Geo. E. Blackham, of Dunkirk, New York, giving the history of the cases of trichiniasis caused by eating the diseased pork, of which specimens had previously been sent to the society. From this article it appears that the dreaded trichinac is by no means so uniformly fatal in its effects as is ordinarily supposed. Nevertheless cases are on record where competen nedical men estimate that one cubic inch of muscular fibre contained eighty-five thousand of this parasite. A pamphlet was also received containing an article by Dr. Chris, Johnston, of DOMESTIC AND FANCY DRY GOODS Baltimore, identifying a deposit of earth ound on the banks of the Patuxent, in Maryland, as being of the same origin and composition as the well-known Bermuda "tripoli." The microscope at once demonstrated the identity of the two deposits, both being made up of the fossil shells of Diatones, invisible to the naked eye, but here aggregated in such count-less numbers as to form extensive tracts of lands. Prepared specimens were also received from Mr. Frank Miller, of New York, and Mr. H. G. Hanks, of San Francisco: for all which a vote of thanks was passed.

The president, Dr. Cutler, read a paper on the "Microscopy of the Cyclops," and also giving some new and interest ing facts regarding certain diatoms found in the same specimen of water. Dr. Cutler states that he has detected in these organisms undoubted cilia, by means of which their peculiar and puz zling movements are effected. In this connection an interesting discussion was had as to how far motion is to be accepted as undoubted evidence of animal No further business appearing, the so-ciety adjourned until the third Thursday in April. Silks at unprecedentedly low prices. MENKEN BROTHERS. New designs in misses' and children's hats by Mrs. M. A. Cutting, 230 Main. PERSONAL.
